ARMY HAD TAINTED MEAT.

Connecticut Guardsmen Object to Food Served Them.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.)

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 1.—There is trouble at the State encampment at Niantic over the food supplies of the militiamen, and Camp Roberts is anything but a place of contentment to-night. The first shipment of meat which came yesterday from a New-Haven concern was condemned by the cooks, and there was a general protest from the men.

The officials refused to make a statement until the dissatisfaction became common talk. Then they said that part of the meat was tainted because of standing without ice.

The men and cooks declare that potatoes were decayed, and must have been so when they were shipped. There is a feeling that there was an attempt on the part of the persons who supplied the stuff to work off old goods. The commissary is censured on all sides.

This morning the hospital corps refused absolutely to use any of the food provided, and the commissary department had to purchase food from local merchants for the hospital and the corps. The medical officers are showing considerable reticence concerning patients undergoing treatment in the hospital tent.

C. W. CULKIN NOW A CLERK.

Mr. Fuller Will Be His Deputy—Justices' Vote Unanimous.

Ex-Alderman Charles W. Culklin, of No. 301 West 12th-st., was yesterday unanimously elected Chief Clerk of the Court of Special Sessions for the full term of ten years, by the six justices of the bench, in meeting. The justices were in deliberation about an hour.

William M. Fuller, who has been chief clerk for several years, was chosen a deputy clerk for five years. His first official act in his reduced position was to turn over to Mr. Culklin $250 in fines collected in the court yesterday, and to advise Mr. Culklin to start a bank account. As soon as the election was made known, Culklin, accompanied by Fuller, went to City Hall, that the former might be sworn in to his new duties by Acting Mayor Forses.

The election of Fuller as deputy clerk forces out automatically Joseph H. Jones, deputy under him. Jones is secretary of Buildings Superintendent Jacob A. Hopper's political club in Harlem, but only recently joined Tammany Hall. Mr. Fuller loses $500 in salary by his reduction, the salary of the chief clerk being $4,000 and that of deputy $3,500.

The fact that the two Republicans on the bench, Justices Duell and Olmsted, voted with the four Democrats, Justices McKean, Wyatt, Zeller and McAvoy, for Culklin, caused considerable speculation about the Criminal Courts Building. The retention of Mr. Fuller as deputy at only a little less the salary he received as chief clerk is thought to have been the arrangement that caused the Republican members to vote with the Democrats. Justice McKean has said, however, that Mr. Fuller would be retained, anyway, as deputy. None of the justices, nor Mr. Culklin or Fuller, would discuss the vote.

RAID, THOUGH ENJOINED.

Police Take Ten Prisoners in "The" Allen's Old Place.

In spite of an injunction granted by Justice Gaynor to the West Side Club, the rooms of that organization in 6th-ave. were raided yesterday by detectives of Inspector Hagan's staff, and ten men were arrested on the charge of aiding and abetting in the running of a poolroom. The place was formerly occupied by "The" Allen, and the police say that Allen is president of the club. This makes the eighty-sixth raid made by the police to places in which Allen has been said to be interested.

The police say that evidence of the existence of two poolrooms at that place was obtained by detectives on Friday, Saturday and Monday last, and they found yesterday on the second and third floors of the three-story building telephone and telegraph instruments, racing charts and betting slips. Among the evidence carried away by the police was a heavy steel door which guarded the entrance to the hallway on the ground floor, and which was one of three doors between the street and the stairways.

Half a dozen detectives made a rush at the hall door about 4:30 p. m. yesterday and overpowered a man, who they said was a "lookout," and who said he was John Martin. Then, with crowbars and hatchets, they smashed in the three doors and ran to the rooms on the second and third floors. Detectives also climbed to the second floor by ladders in the rear and cut away the wire netting of the windows.

There were more than three hundred men on the two floors, and the top floor was used entirely by colored men. Card tables and chips were found on both floors, and on the second floor a negro was burning papers in a stove. Sergeant Boyle pulled a handful of the papers from the flames and found, the police say, the record of one $5 bet on a horse race. The police had eight warrants, issued by Magistrate Cornell, but they made ten arrests. None of the prisoners were charged with conducting the place.

The report of the raid spread rapidly, and so great became the crowd in 6th-ave. and on the elevated station at 6th-st. that reserves from three precincts had to be sent to restore order and clear the street. The prisoners were sent to the Mercer-st. station, where Emil Fuchs, who had obtained the injunction against the police, soon arrived with Patrick Ryan, a saloonkeeper, and gave bonds. Detective Rooney ran into the basement of the building, hoping to get upstairs by a rear stairway. In the basement he was attacked by a big bulldog and bitten in the left knee.

SCOTLAND YARD FOR CHICAGO.

Institution Similar to Scotland Yard To Be Established.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Chicago will soon have its own Scotland Yard. Chief of Police John M. Collins announces that in a few days he will establish a detective bureau, under Assistant Chief Schuetzler. The assistant chief will have eight of the best detectives in the city on his staff, and will work in harmony with the State Attorney's office.

One object of the innovation is the "centering and holding of evidence." As soon as a murder or any other big crime is committed the "runners" from Schuetzler's office will be on the scene with a photographer and an artist or a draftsman. Every bit of tangible evidence will be picked up, tabulated and used by the detectives in working up the case and in its prosecution in the criminal court. This plan is in practice in Berlin, London and New-York.

*The Wanamaker Store*Store Closes at 5 P. M.
Saturdays at Noon.The Wanamaker StoreThe GREATEST FURNITURE BUSINESS IN THE WORLDBuilt on Original, Masterful, Public-Serving Methods

Monday and yesterday saw such furniture selling in our New York and Philadelphia Stores as would have made a big month's business for almost any other furniture store in either city.

It was simply public testimony to past Wanamaker accomplishment.

And yet, there are thousands of people who do not realize the position in the furniture trade held by the Wanamaker Stores. Here are facts:

There is no other retail furniture business in the United States that equals in volume that of either our New York or our Philadelphia Store. In combination, our two stores do a strictly Furniture business more than two times as great as the next largest store.

Judge for yourself the position and prestige among furniture manufacturers held by the man who has regular orders to place, two or three times as great as any other buyer in the trade.

Doesn't that explain why a manufacturer will gladly cut the price a third or a half on a quantity of furniture that is only five or ten per cent. of what he sells to us at regular prices? Doesn't it explain why the choicest "plums" of the year's business MUST come to WANAMAKER'S?

Yet there are stores which do less than a tenth of the Wanamaker Furniture business, which claim to have similar August Sales—writing their announcements from old files of Wanamaker advertising, instead of stating the facts about the glued-together "cheap" furniture that is casting discredit on the great August Sale principle amongst the thousands of people who see only imitation sales, and fail to come to WANAMAKER'S.

But, while some are deterred from buying in August by reason of the counterfeit "sales," nothing else could so illustrate Wanamaker superiority as do these August comparisons. The giant's height is emphasized by the dwarfs that parade behind him. It is the scores of imitators that fail at the test, who prove the mastery of Wanamaker success.

What greater proof than yesterday's hundreds of enthusiastic purchasers? If you have time and furniture knowledge to make comparisons, we hope you will test August Sales for yourself. If you prefer to abide by the decisions of the great public of New York housekeepers, come direct to WANAMAKER'S and see with your own eyes how lively the selling is, and hear the verdicts spoken as customers view the various pieces they are interested in.

The magnificent August collection is at its best during these early days of the sale. Don't delay coming a moment longer than necessary. Remember that the furniture will be delivered later on in the Fall, as you may arrange, if you are not ready to receive it now.

THE SALE OF FURS Is A Great Success

Selling Furs in August was an experiment, in New York City until yesterday. But we shouldn't have attempted it if we hadn't felt satisfied of the successful outcome. We never found any merchandise, the selling of which was arbitrarily confined to a specific season, if sufficient public benefit could be offered to make a before-the-season investment profitable.

Yesterday's response to the announcement of the August Fur Sale, and its great advantages, taxed us to the utmost at times, and fully justified the large preparations we had made.

Here are garments and small pieces made of carefully selected and critically inspected furs, made up in the best styles of the coming season—all new, and made in the best manner, offering large and substantial savings in cost to those who will make the purchase a couple of months earlier than usual.

We take care of the furs until you want them, if you so desire. No risk, no bother—the Wanamaker guarantee protects you as to their quality—the economy is as secure and complete as it is decisive.

To-day we show a splendid array of Fur-lined Overcoats for Men, in connection with many new pieces for women.
